“As we were driving, we saw a sign that said, ‘Watch for Rocks.’ Martha said it should read ‘Watch for Pretty Rocks.’ I told her she should write in her suggestion to the highway department, but she started saying it was a joke – just to get out of writing a simple letter! And I thought I was lazy!” ~~Jack Handey

 Señora has an absolute obsession with rocks

++ One of my ex-brother-in-laws had a game he played when his children were very young and just learning to read. He had them convinced that the signs that read “Watch for Falling Rocks” was about a crazed Native American that had escaped a mental institution... him and his half brother Leaping Deer.
