yeah I know you did not ask!

You should so be blessed – well cursed at times actually – with a mind such as mine, making all these weird connections between my rumored neurons. Just be thankful that I do not share all of my random thoughts.

You do not have to be particularly well versed in history to know that we have always had, shall we say, problematic politicians in this country. This was driven home to me when I worked for the Arkansas Department of Health. Part of my job was, at times, working with local politicians, many of whom seemed to have very personal axes to grind.

It does seem, though, that, on the whole, with the current crop of politicians in Washington and across the various states, our political garden is, more than usual, chock full of obnoxious weeds.

Which got me to ruminating...

Perhaps the worst part of being a politician would be having to hang around and work with other politicians.

Just saying.
