

Rev. Joe's Random Thought # 996

by Rev. Joe Dirt - Tuesday, December 08, 2015

<http://www.curmudgeon-alley.com/rev-joes-random-thought-996/>

yeah I know you did not ask!

I have become convinced that 90% of the world's problems could be solved by doing three things. First, bring the human population down to sustainable levels, just not globally but in each area where there are far too many people for the land. Secondly, end the superstitious practice called religion, no matter what guise it is found under. Lastly distribute the wealth more equitably.

Simple huh?

Share this:

- Share
-

Like this:

Like Loading...